From the President & CEO

Change doesn't happen overnight.

Change takes a bold vision, patience, and dedication – traits that are inherent in a changemaker. At Tides Canada, we are privileged to be part of a community of changemakers who share a common vision for a healthy environment and just Canadian society.

Every day, we strive to advance this vision in the face of intractable challenges and the ever-changing environment in which we work. We are encouraged and emboldened by our collective progress – whether measured in inches, or in leaps and bounds.

We are committed to advancing our mission in the most effective way and we are constantly evolving to respond to emerging social and environmental needs. In 2013, we examined the efficacy of our program and project efforts with the goal of focusing on how and where we can do our best work. I look forward to sharing the re-articulation of our core work this fall.

The 2013 year was also marked by some important milestones:

- Through our shared administrative platform, we welcomed five new projects to the Tides Canada family – Access Our Medicine, Arctic Funders Group, Diasporic Genius, Project Neutral, and the School for Social Entrepreneurs Ontario.
- Two new associates – Julie Price and Steve Ellis – joined our team to support the expansion of our project and program work in food and in the Canadian North, respectively.
- We marked the “Year of Reconciliation” building new relationships among Aboriginal and all Canadian peoples by collaborating on the work of Reconciliation Canada, which included a historic walk of 70,000 people through the heart of downtown Vancouver.

The steadfast expressions of support we continue to receive from Tides Canada donors, partners, and friends are uplifting reminders of the community of changemakers we proudly serve, and with whom we hold a shared vision for a better Canada. Thank you for your trust in us.

We look forward to what's ahead and working with you to effect positive and lasting change in support of a healthy, vibrant, and prosperous Canada.

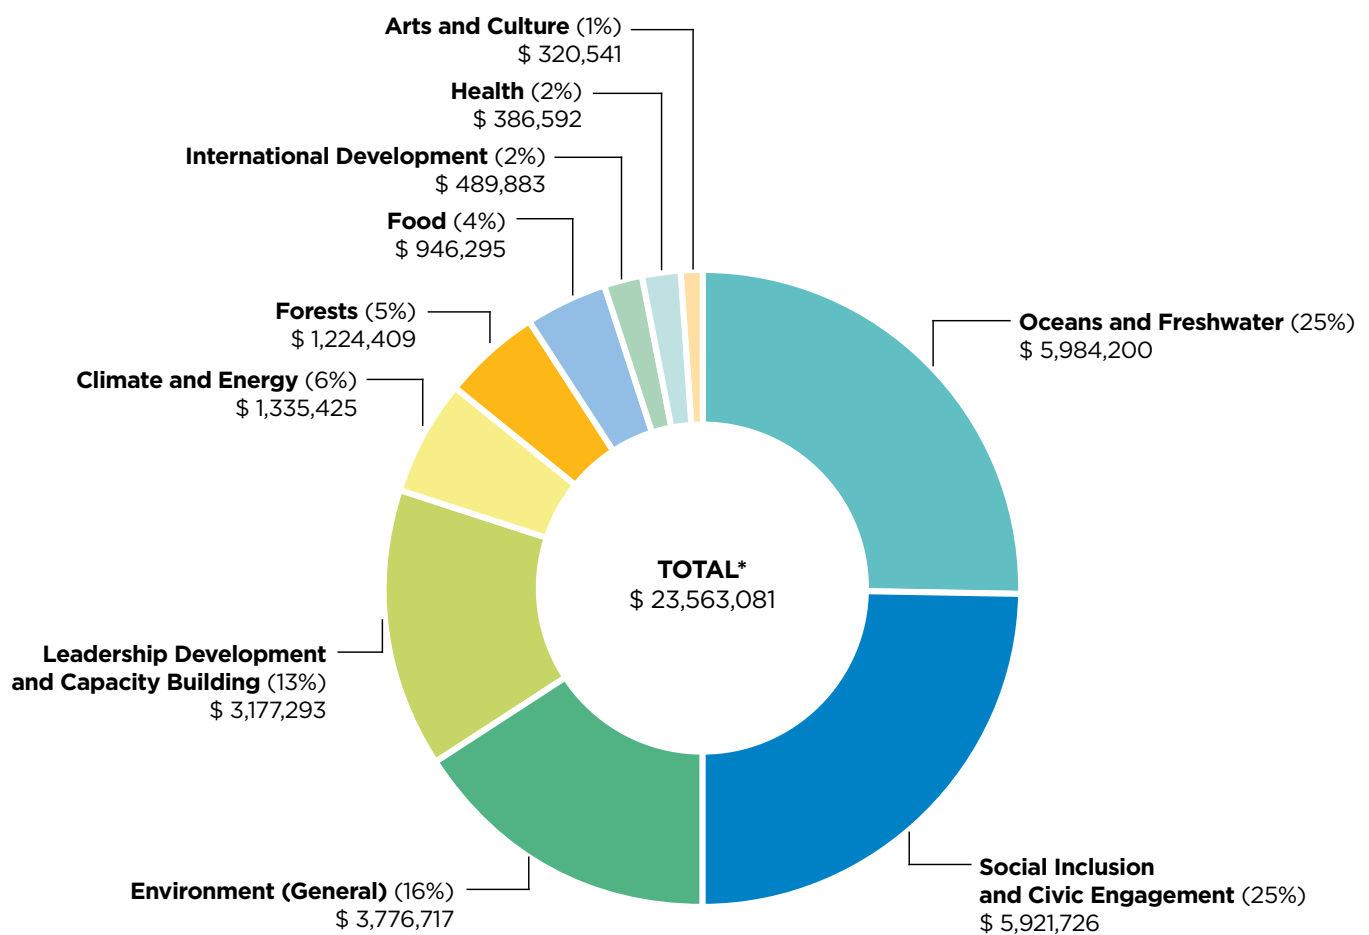

Ross McMillan
President & CEO

Grants & Activities

Tides Canada comprises two associated organizations. Tides Canada Foundation is a public foundation that makes grants and carries out program activities supporting social justice and the environment. Tides Canada Initiatives Society is an operating charity with nearly 40 in-house projects. We also collaborate with third parties who help us achieve our mission.

* Total grants, programmatic activities, collaborations, and project expenditures in 2013. Percentages do not add to 100% due to rounding. View more details, purposes, and amounts in the appendix.

Tides Canada Projects

Tides Canada houses a shared administrative platform that powers a range of social change projects and collaborations across Canada. Because many projects access a common base of expertise without the administrative burden of setting up individual organizations, the charitable sector benefits from more time and money directed to mission and impact.

In 2013, Tides Canada welcomed five new projects to its shared platform. The platform supports projects across seven social and environmental focus areas.

Tides Canada is a national charity dedicated to building resilient communities and a healthy environment for all Canadians.

We collaborate with both donors and social change leaders, offering a platform for charitable giving and a home for on-the-ground efforts to create uncommon solutions for the common good.

Since 2000, we have worked on building bridges between and among sectors, helping to steer more philanthropy into innovative work that can address tough social and environmental challenges.

Tides Canada is accredited under Imagine Canada's Standards Program that recognizes charities and nonprofits for excellence in governance, management, and transparency.

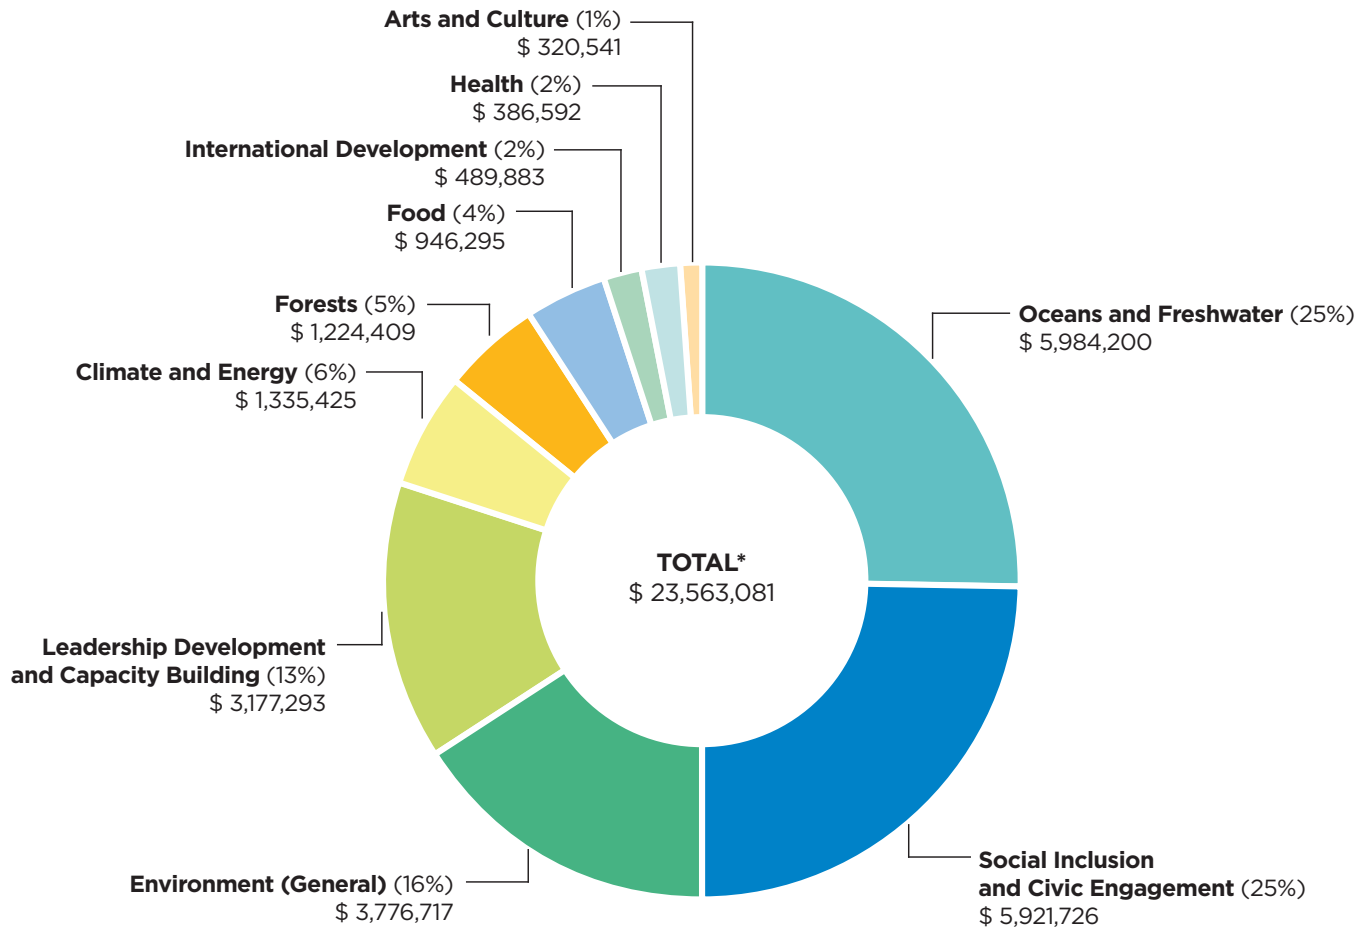

Tides Canada comprises two associated organizations:
Tides Canada Foundation (BN 868947797 RR0001), the country's largest public foundation dedicated to social and environmental issues, and Tides Canada Initiatives Society (BN 130560188 RR0001), an operating charity that houses social change projects ranging from neighbourhood-scale initiatives to national conservation efforts on a shared administrative platform.
